Environment[] Strengthen your senses and plan what you think you might need, if you live in or near a cold biome, carry extra A ATorches, A Awarm clothing, and other things that will help with local dinos and your warmth. To stay longer under water and also to swim faster level up A AOxygen. If so then investing some points into A AStamina is a viable option, this will allow you to sprint and fight for longer durations. Making it a considerable choice to level up especially at higher rates and with the help of Gachas and a Toilet. Flying low in circles before landing it is the smart thing to do, especially on swamps and biomes where danger exists everywhere. Ideally, knock them out in as few hits as possible by using advanced methods like Tranquilizer Arrows or even Tranquilizer Darts. You never know when a potential tame, dangerous dino, rare resource, etc. When in the inventory of a creature or container, hover over an item and press T to easily transfer that item to your own inventory, or vice-versa. If you're an inexperienced player you will also learn how to start your journey, how not to die, how to spend development points gained after advancing to higher levels and where to set up your first camp. You can quickly repair an item by hitting its assigned hotbar button (assuming you have the required materials). With that said, be sure to plan ahead, by this I mean far ahead. Highlands NE: Safer than Highlands NE: Safe resources. Especially if you are not yet able to craft or even ran out of A ANarcotic (the stronger version of Narcoberries). All logos and images are copyrighted by their respective owners. Be strategic when it comes to choosing the location of your main base. A ASpinosaurus rarely spawn up the river as do A ABaryonyx. To At the default value, just type in the range. Long term (multiplayer) [] to survive for a long time it is recommended to make the following, form or enter a tribu. You will learn to convene and defeat one of the main bosses of the game (Bloodmother Lysrix), that resources are necessary to create your first equipment, where to look for them and how to build your character. For example, one of you could focus on the structures, you could get tools and weapons, another could get tools and lens creatures such as Dodos, Jerboas, Bulbdogs as they do not fight back, it is also an easy source of early game experience. Gamma # where # = 1 to 9. In addition, they are good fighters in terms of basic defense. They are a must-have for each lone survivor not only to make great bases, but also to collect the essential elements for the realization of everything. Save the Engram points after level 30 and spend them only when you are in something you need immediately. If you can create them, it is highly recommended to use Bolas or make a trap to keep it in place while expelled with a torpor induction method like TRANQ DARTS. Other creatures can be tame passively by feeding them by hand (such as Mesopithecus), or require a completely different method (such as TroDON). Earning XP [] When you lay like a level 1 just make different choices or torches to get the first levels more quickly. During horse riding or in front of a dino it is possible to press the F, or to access the inventory of the Dino di Cresta. Once a RAFT is unlocked, you can go to Herbivore isolates easily due to its closeness. But for the most part, the information is useful. They are a bit easy to tame if you have a tranquilizer arrows (level 21). Consider that it runs, as they can grant enormous quantities of XP in very short periods. of time. They also increase your resistance to loss of consciousness. However, attention to deep water and leedsichthys as they can damage zattere and destroy them in a few shots, remain close to the coastal line to avoid them. It is possible to update the refuge parts (ex. Come cave, add only to a tribu you trust. The higher level feeding craters will provide you with many of the blueprints for the elements that you would otherwise spend Ingram points up. Refuge [] It is advisable to hide Sleeping Bag on a Early - View the map coordinates to help navigation, can be collected and replaced, and it is useful for marking caves or other points of interest. This allows you to constantly have a source of water to drink and refresh, and e on where you are, fish to eat. Remember that your biggest threat is wild dinos. Once you have five Metal Ingot you can craft a Smithy. But keep an eye out for A APiranhas, as they are very dangerous early on. You may have built a complete wooden fenced in yard with a nice wooden house; but you are going to want to upgrade your walls to metal and construct as many Auto Turrets as possible as soon as you possibly can. (Or better, A AStimulant and A ANarcotics. Change to A ASimple Bed when you can. DO NOT make enemies unnecessarily and avoid being hostile to people. Consider more aggressive methods of leveling such as clearing the Swamp Cave (The Island) for extremely fast leveling. Taming creatures can take a long amount of time (up to several hours on official settings), make sure to always if possible, to include the following: Materials to repair your Tools and Armor. Edit All the tips you need to survive in the Arks: The Island[] South Zone 1: South Zone 1: South Zone 1 is a very safe area with few predators, à ÂDilophosaurs are about the only dangerous creature you will encounter, à ÂSpinosaurus have a small chance to spawn up the inlet and à ÂPiranhas may spawn in the inlet too. Crafted to à ÂElement Shard in the inventory every à AElement Dust is worth 1 XP. Simple weapons like Spears, Bow and Arrows, and Tools are good to kill these small targets. Keep in mind that you should have all the resources not far from there, especially if you want to spend as little time as possible traveling. Other weapons like the: A ATrang Arrow or A ATRANG ARROW OF xp, since these can be easily killed by the guns. (Shoot everywhere but the face of the tirke suffers reduced damage from the bullets there.) The Alfa provide an excellent source of XP especially in the subsequent stages of the game. Craft a ¢ for easy experience (2xp per for A sleeping bag does not require a structure to be built upon, but cannot be shared by tribe members and is a single use item. Example gamma 3 alters the darkness in the game so you can see at night. As a solo, concealment of your base is the only sure way to avoid getting raided. Always carry water, food, and sources of heat in your Dino. This will make the taming process a safe and easy timing thing. Do a note run, most players on multiplayer servers will be well above level 80, as Official ARK servers never wipe. Never settle for A AThatch based structures, since they have relatively no protection or durability, people will focus on these first. All official maps have notes, To show your FPS, type stat fps. In PvE a Stone-based home will also do.). You will probably find yourself spending engram points on a wide variety of things. Building backup bases are a good idea, as even metal bases are easily raided. On high peaks such as the Volcano, Herbivore Island, and a large hill in the southern islets, you can find black rocks streaked with gold and shiny gold rocks that will yield large Metal quantities. Taming[] Summary[] To tame most creatures you have to knock them out first. None of them weigh much and can save you a trip back before expected. South Zone 2: South Zone 2 is a good choice for newcomers due to it having metal deposits and river rocks, A ÂPiranhas and A ÂSarcos do occasionally spawn in the river though so take caution when crossing. [] The richest of metal rocks, often found on the mountain peaks Regular metal rocks, you can find a couple of these on the hill at Herbivore Island (bottom right island) Round rocks on and around the river shore line with good metal yields Common rocks with almost no metal at all Note: When harvesting Metal you will want to use an AAnkylosaurus, you can find these on every map in the game in various environments. The wooden raft is also a good source of XP in the initial phase. Keep an eye on the close herbivores. You will have to tame a selection of dinosaurs, like some for transport via land, sea and or air, the ability to collect meat, hide, wood, straw and berries and overall, protect your base when you are disconnected. Saving the Engram points at the beginning allows you to make a more educated decision more forward in the game regarding the way you should spend them. If none of these can be found, the simple river rocks will start you but they will produce a very low rate compared to those previously listed. It was discovered that a method reduces the tame time, it is connected as the following suggestions to tame#. (With the exception of Arkpocalypse). A note of the common island obtains new characters from 1 - ~ 70 in less than 15 minutes and is by far the best level of leveling the game. When it comes to your inventory, there are some things that are always cautious to keep, it doesn't matter what you are doing. If things go badly or want a challenge, you can adapt them to your advantage/damage. The only exception is for rapidly vizant food like Raw Prime meat. The old piece will be destroyed and you guarantee some resources. The rivers and internal lakes are often full of megapiranha, which can overwhelm you quickly with their number. Getting metal and advancing metal tools [] to obtain metal tools should be a very high priority as they will allow you to collect resources very quickly.
